Paper 60 years... between 2019 Journal highlights

The Hydrogeology Journal paper on 60 years of global progress in managed aquifer recharge (linked below) has just been announced by Springer Nature as being among the most popular articles they published in the last year and was rated the most popular article in Hydrogeology Journal for that year. It has had 20 citations so far and lots of reads ... <https://bit.ly/2VK748i> This is further evidence of the value of working groups of IAH Commission on MAR. It follows the huge popularity a year earlier of Catalin and Nienke's paper in SWARM, on Web-based global inventory of MAR applications, also a working group product. Info reported by Peter Dillon.
